Please note there is a discount if you send it back with your 2016 subscription before 31st December 2015.

Last Orders for GT Committee

The GT AGM will be in February 2016 where new officers for the Committee are elected.

So if you are thinking of getting involved, please call the President Roger Amsden on 05 49 28 98 69 to discuss anything you might be able to offer.

Is there a task you could take on? Could YOU share it?

Being on the committee does take a small amount of time, but it is very rewarding – and fun!

We all have other commitments – family, UK responsibilities and such-like but we support each other – and the association, so why not give it a try?

The winners of the Photo Competition for the 2016 GT Calendar are - by number of votes received:

17 14 53 28 9 54 3 21 49 59 5 63

2016 Calendars

The Get Together 2016 Calendars are now available.

They are Bigger and Better – A4 but opening to A3 size when hung on a wall, and still only 5 Euros each.

The order form is at the back of this Newsletter, so please send in your order to Michele ASAP.

If you are at either of the Northern or Southern Xmas Lunches – you can arrange to pick up your order there.

WALK ORGANISERS NEEDED FOR 2016

Once again I have to appeal for walk organisers in the South.

As it stands at the moment the last walk in the South will take place in February. Despite repeated requests for people to come forward to arrange a walk and meal, no volunteers have appeared for after February.

If you want to walk in the South, please organise one!

We have become virtually reliant on a small number of people to organise multiple walks throughout the year. This is self evidently unfair and the load should be shared.

NO VOLUNTEERS, NO WALKS

December's Book Club/Library is being hosted by Margaret & Frank Stubbs at 1 rue de la Croix Lavault, Seran, 86170 Cherves.

Directions: Take N149 (main Parthenay to Poitiers road) from Parthenay as far as Chalandray.

At Chalandray (at crossroads with bakery on the corner) turn left onto D24 signed Vouzailles.

Continue on, over rail tracks, for 3 kilometres and turn left at sign for Seran.

Follow on through the village.

The 8 km walk will start at 10.30 am at the lake just outside Menigoute called the Etang de Bois Pouvreau, its fairly flat terrain, but is known to get muddy if it has been particularly wet, so please wear appropriate footwear and clothing. Just a chance to gossip and savour some booze made to an ancient recipe (Delia's, and she's certainly getting on a bit). Mince pies will be just like last year, none of your bought in rubbish, but home made by Maureen, so come in your droves.

After having to cancel last year's gathering because of Grant's op he has decided that he will again be running the traditional 'Mince Pie Specials' on his 'O' gauge railway layout. Come and play with and watch trains and have a cup of tea and a mince pie. Non-playing partners, all other members and their visitors are welcome to come just for the chat and refreshments.

After Xmas Mon 28th Dec 10.30 am La Grimaudiere
Amble

Walk off your Christmas fare!! An amble/walk for just over an hour between Christmas and New Year on flat ground on the tracks and small roads around La Grimaudiere.

The walk is suitable for all abilities with no substantial hills but there could be a couple of wet patches so suitable footwear please. The walk is "figure of eight" the first 20 minutes is on quiet roads and then passing our starting point; where people can drop out if they wish; we do another 45 minutes on a mixture of roads and tracks. It is an interesting walk passing lavoirs and the source of the Dive giving a super view over a small lake towards the church on the first part of the walk, then on the second part we walk to the small hamlet of Surin which has a mill with a working mill wheel. We return to La Grimaudiere along the track at the side of the river Dive. We then drive for about 15 minutes to the restaurant.

Lunch, as in previous years, will be taken at "Le Bacchus" restaurant in Grand Rue, 86330, Martaizé.

We have booked for 12.00 noon as they have another commitment in the afternoon. It is €13.00 for three courses, wine and coffee included. There will be two starters, two main courses and a choice of desserts or cheese. If you require fish as a main course we must know when you book as fish is not always one of the choices. Because a lot of people are away over the Christmas period and our walks are always on the edge of our "catchment area" there will be plenty of room for your Christmas guests. Also please feel free to book just for the lunch if you fancy a communal yuletide meal out.

Directions;- La Grimaudiere is on the D725 which runs from Airvault towards Mirebeau and is just over the "border" from Deux Sevres into La Vienne. In the centre of La Grimaudiere take the left turn (from Airvault direction) onto the D19, signposted Notre Dame d'Or and La Vallee Divine. Follow the road round keeping to the left at the fork and park in the "Aire de pique nique" "Depart des Randonnees" on the left at a small crossroads. There are basic facilities at the start but sometimes in the winter they are closed as they drain the system down - so don't rely on them!

If you need a route from any other direction, or for directions if you are going straight to the restaurant please contact us.

Please book by Monday 21st December.

Reading Wed 6th Jan 2.30 pm La Villedé
Circle

For our first meeting in the New Year our book choice is Levels of Life by Julian Barnes. It is a slim novel (only 117 pages) consisting of three separate and distinct stories but interconnected as a whole thesis. The equally short and precise review from The Times described it thus: 'To read it is a privilege. To have written it is astonishing'.

We shall see what our group think of it in due course.

The completed set of reviews for 2015 is published on the website and can be consulted any time.

Bowling Night Thurs 7th Jan 5.00 pm Niort

Please note the revised date for this walk (restaurant availability).

There will be a walk of approximately 8Km, with a shorter option of 4 to 5Km. The walk will be on the flat and will comprise by-roads and well made tracks. Nevertheless, suitable footwear should be worn given the season. Lunch will be taken at the Market Restaurant in Lezay.

Walk Fri 29th Jan 10.00 am La Chapelle Thireuil

The walk will start from the car park in the centre of La Chapelle Thireuil, where public toilets are available. The main walk is 8km which will be mostly on tracks which could be muddy, so please bring appropriate footwear. A shorter walk of 4km is also available, but please note that due to the nature of the Gâtine countryside, Lunch will be taken at L'Edelweiss Restaurant in Coulonges-sur-L'Autize (5 rue de la Gare) and the cost for a 3 course lunch with wine and coffee is €14.00 per person. Any non-walkers are most welcome to come along and enjoy the lunch.

This month we have another Guest speaker: Nick Wells, Senior Archaeologist at Foundations Archaeology. Nick has previously undertaken analysis of a coin hoard in 2010. He has over 20 years experience in all aspects of archaeology. He has also run several projects from Cornwall to Perth.

His Topic Today is: From Gallia to Francia; the transformation of Aquitania Secunda from the 4th to the 6th centuries.

Aquitania Secunda in the 4th century was a relatively peaceful province far enough away from the Rhine frontier to be untroubled by constant border wars. Various civil wars, often fomented by rebellious military leaders in the provinces of Britain, passed the region by heading to the centre of imperial government via Arles and onwards to Rome. The province's capital, Bordeaux, and the main military post, Poitiers, were thus unscathed and the picture painted by our aristocratic sources of the region is one of tranquillity and wealth. Yet this idyllic world would come tumbling to the ground in the first two decades of the 5th century. First by the migration of a loose confederation of Germanic tribes who crossed the frozen Rhine in the winter of 406 and pushed southwards to Spain, and then in 418 by the settlement of the Visigoths in Aquitania fresh after their sacking of Rome.

Over the next hundred years the region became the centre of power politics between Imperial Rome and the dominant Visigoths – until the battle of Vouillé near Poitiers in 507 when the Visigothic king, Alaric II, was defeated by Clovis I, king of the Franks. This talk will explore the nature of late Roman society in Aquitania Secunda, the effect of the Germanic incursions into the area and examine the transition from a Visigothic kingdom to the precursor of what was to become France.

The cost is €5.00 per head, to cover refreshments, hire of the room & heating (if needed).

Directions to Auberge des Voyageurs in Menigoute.

From North (Parthenay), exit towards Pompaire then via Vausseroux and La Pagerie, on mainly D176 and D21. From South (Lezay), via D45 and D5 through Chey, La Mothe Saint Heray and Saint Germier.

From West (Champdeniers), via Saint Georges de Noisne, Chantecorps and La Pagerie, mainly D329.

From East (Poitiers), via La Torchaise and Sanxay, mainly D3. The restaurant itself is in the centre of the Bourg, opposite the small chapel.

N.B. We have to confirm numbers to the Auberge one week before the meeting. As a result we will be charged for any people who DO NOT TURN up on the day.

So, we will have to charge individuals for “No Shows” on the day, sorry about this, but we have no choice!

As many members are now choosing to arrive early and enjoy a lovely social lunch at the Auberge, Charlotte has asked that if possible, you book ahead. Please call 05 49 69 13 66.

Speak to Charlotte, her English is very good.

REPORTS ON RECENT EVENTS

Second Circle

Fri 6th Nov

La Bourse

Report by
Lesley Ritchie

Our most recent meeting was held on Friday 6th November at Michele, Eric and Audrey's home in La Bourse.

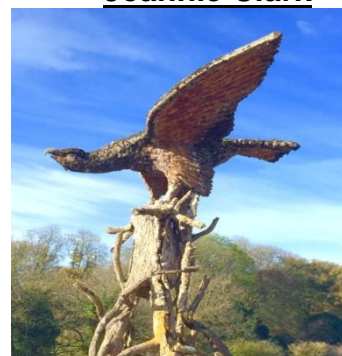

We have decided to explore different genres of books, beginning with science fiction. Eric's choice, Squares of the City, written in the 1960s by John Brunner, is about a futuristic model city in South America based loosely on Brasilia.

It led to a very interesting and thought-provoking discussion about power, politics, manipulation and race, before we ran out of time and reluctantly had to stop.

Some of us who have not read or expected to enjoy science fiction, were writing down the titles of his other books in the Club of Rome Quartet.

WalkSat 7th Nov*Montjean*Report by Jeannie Clark

On 7th November 28 of us plus two dogs set off from Montjean, and made our way along minor roads, crossing the new LGV line and skirting the very attractive small chateau at le Peu (which was probably more attractive when the Marquis lived there prior to his death 7 years ago). We were impressed by an enormous urn in the grounds, and also by an eagle sculpted from wood, situated rather bizarrely in the middle of a field of tournesols.

The weather was exceptionally warm - around 20°C - and before long various layers were being discarded, and some faces became gradually more and more pink.

There was some dissention in the ranks when the 'short walk' didn't materialise, but luckily the cavalry arrived in the form of Linda in her car, to relay people back to the restaurant.

Lunch at the Relais de la Peruse at Montjean was excellent value for money - with two extra guests joining us - although unfortunately one of our number, Jeff Talbert, was taken ill half way through. Luckily there literally was a 'doctor in the house' who was able to take charge until help arrived.

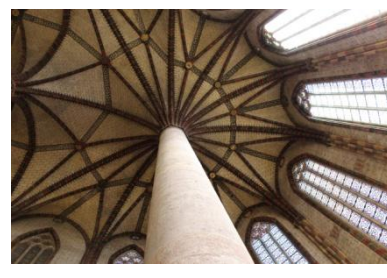

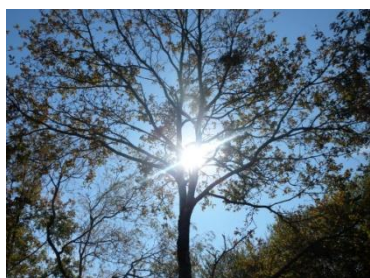

I am delighted to report that Jeff was discharged from hospital later on that evening - and we all wish him a speedy return back to fitness. Thanks to Bob and wife Chris for taking Jeff's wife Bev to the hospital.

Our thanks to Linda and Peter Bains for arranging a lovely walk and an excellent meal.

Photography ClubMon 16th November Fenery*Report by Lesley Ritchie

Seven members of the newly-formed group met at Rebecca's home where David (Brennan) and Jim Hutchison shared their considerable expertise. We focused on some of the technical aspects of the camera and on photo composition. We took some photos and discussed others photos brought by members of the group.

The quality of our cameras and knowledge of how to use them varied a lot (mine being – hold it the right way up, point, press and hope for the best). Yet, because David made time to help us individually, we all came away feeling enthused and keen to apply what we had learned. Most important, we all enjoyed ourselves, helped by the excellent flapjack, and came away keen to get out there with our cameras.

David Brennan also writes: At the second meeting of the GT Photography Group some of our members brought along recent photographs for viewing and discussion and three of these are reproduced here. For the technically minded the exposure details are included, and none of the images have been post-capture computer adjusted, so they are straight from the camera.

Michele and Eric Hansford showed us the superbly detailed ceiling, walls and windows of a Chapel. The photograph was taken on 17 September before the Photography Group inaugural meeting, so this is all their own work! If this is an example of what they can do when they "don't know what they are doing!" look out for some exceptional shots for the 2017 calendar. Shutter speed 1/30 sec @ aperture f/5.6, ISO 640.

Jim Hutchison silenced us with the shot of the tribute candles scene on the steps of the Niort Mairie the evening after the Paris terrorist attack. Taken at 1/60 sec @ f/4.5, ISO 2800.

You may know that Jim is a retired professional photographer. However, all his professional life was spent with film (stills, not movie) cameras, before the advent of digital, when both the world and photography were different from today. Jim has only recently embraced the digital revolution and this image reflects his undoubted skill. Rebecca Sewell has been experimenting with her Samsung Compact camera since the first meeting and trying to put into practice new skills learned then. She showed us four images taken of the same scene using different settings and we unanimously agreed that at the fourth attempt she had a shot which blew us away. Bec now knows a little more about the settings of her camera and what effect they have on the resulting photograph. What makes this shot so special is that she didn't want the trees to appear as silhouettes, and what she has achieved is detail in the trees without the sun being totally overpowering, and just look at that beautiful "starburst" effect. This is a shot to tax an advanced photographer, so well done Bec! Shutter speed 1/1500 sec @ f/3.9, ISO 80.

Alan Peel

A satisfying number of members turned out to listen to a superbly researched presentation, the second part of a series on France and the Great War, entitled Lions, Donkeys and the Onset of Trench Warfare 1914- 15, presented by Vaughan Wells

It was particularly relevant, if not to say poignant, so soon after Armistice Day, when we think of the fallen in all wars of which the WW 1 seems to have become a symbol. We say, reverently, "We will remember them" but do we really remember the true horror and futility of it all or do we just remember the sanitised and glorified memory that has been perpetuated for 100 years?

There is an old saying "The first casualty of war is the truth" and although it is a cliché, it is nonetheless true. Governments and generals are obliged to lie to the people in order to justify war and then to hide the horror, the waste and the failures. Fortunately there were those who, to some degree, revived the "casualty" and recorded the truth of trench warfare; men like Wilfred Owen, Siegfried Sassoon and numerous less known writers. Vaughan gave these people a voice again and showed us, perhaps, a different perspective on that horrific conflict.
